

Americans Closing in upon Metz Norwegians Invade Homeland To Fight with Reds Leyte Japs Facing Annihilation

First Cavalry And Infantry Trap Big Force

Strategy Outwits
Enemy near Ormoc

By MURLIN SPENCER
GENERAL MACARTHUR'S
HEADQUARTERS, PHILIPPINES,
Nov. 15. (AP)—Successful movements by veteran divisions of the Twenty-Fourth have fashioned a new strategy which threatened today to annihilate the Japanese forces on the south end of Leyte island's bloody Ormoc corridor.

The Twenty-Fourth infantrymen
have a spearhead through the rugged mountain country southeast of Zamboanga to threaten the Yam-aputa line below Limon. Gen.
Douglas MacArthur reported today.

Strategy Well Executed
The strategy was well executed.
Units of the Twenty-Fourth infantry along the Ormoc road maintained pressure to contain the Japanese, other elements of the division swung through the mountains to the southwest and cut back toward the Ormoc road.

At the same time, the First cavalry swung toward the road from the east and southeast.

This placed the Japanese in the position of having to retire or face possible annihilation.

MacArthur estimated the Japanese force thus threatened as "a reinforced regiment." This would be no exact indication of the size.

Jap Attacks Repulsed
On the southern end of the Western Leyte battlefield, small scale
Japanese attempts to bring in reinforcements were repulsed by troops of the American Seventh division which caught the enemy moving toward in small barges toward Zamboanga, fourteen miles south of Ormoc.

This was the first mention in more than a week of the Seventh division driving toward Ormoc, only remaining reinforcement port for the enemy, from the south.

Meanwhile fighting was heavy along the bitterly-contested road which runs from Ormoc to Carigara,
the sole land supply line for the Japanese along the Ormoc corridor.

Units of the American First cavalry are closing in on the Ormoc road from Hill 1525 and Mt. Cata-man, the communicate said, with effective support of artillery.

Jap Casualties Heavy
Heavy enemy casualties were reported in that sector. Numerous gun positions were destroyed.

MacArthur reported ineffective enemy harassing raids on shipping off shore installations and said
fifteen enemy aircraft were shot down by fighters and ack ack.

Gen. Tokuyuki Yamashita urged that veterans of the First and Sixty-Sixth Japanese divisions to operate efforts to wrest the initiative from American liberation forces moving forward slowly but surely along the Ormoc corridor.

The battle was a grim one. Much at stake for Yamashita was strutted with the task of opposing Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the last phase of the Philippine campaign.

Budapest Faces Early Fall to Advancing Reds

By W. W. HERCHER
LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Soviet Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky set the stage tonight for the fall of Budapest, straightening his lines of advances northeast and south of the Hungarian capital and moving his armor, artillery and infantry
into a strangling semicircle around the city.

Most of the day's operation's of the Red army on the sudden eastern front were aimed at getting into position for a death strike at Budapest. The Russian communique announced capture of more than thirty-five miles east and northeast of Hitler's last satellite capital and liquidation of the enemy bridgehead
on the east bank of the Danube with capture of Solt and Duna Egyhaza, forty-five and forty-two miles south.

Russians Head North
Holding fast to their positions
within easy medium artillery range of Budapest on the south, Malinovsky's men drove north and northwest from Monor and took Uri and Peters, registering gains of three to five miles.

Further east they took the big railway town of Nagykuta, twenty-seven miles east of Budapest and ten miles south of Jaszbereny, and extended their hold closely on both sides of the latter important center,
with Heves, seventeen miles northeast, the largest town taken.

Line Straightened
The whole operation had the effect of straightening out the previously sinuous line stretching eighty miles northeast from the Budapest vicinity to positions south of Miskolc.

The German radio said the Russians had dug in less than two miles from Jaszbereny and acknowledged that they had made various penetrations along the line from Monor northeast. The Germans also indicated that a strong drive for Miskolc,
a big railway junction, appeared to be developing from the south.

Between Nov. 10 and 13 the Russians have taken 3,600 prisoners in Hungary, said the Soviet communique as broadcast from Moscow and recorded in London by the Soviet monitor. This, it said, brought the bag since Nov. 8 to 7,700.

headed by Senator Byrd (D-Va.),

vious enjoyment out of relating how

how to save money.

The president proposes to take the oath on the curving south por-tico of the executive mansion. Those invited to witness the ceremony
would stand on the lawn which falls away in a sloping sweep. Mr. Roosevelt said that tickets would have to be issued, for otherwise it would look like the Easter egg hunt.

rency shows the stretch of lawn

American Stores Held Violators Of O.P.A. Rules

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (AP)—
Federal District Judge J. Cullen
Ganey said today that the OPA had
"amply substantiated" its allegations that the American Stores Company had violated price regulations.

The jurist made the statement after testimony by Joel H. Thornton, chief of the meat, fish, poultry and dairy products division of the New York regional OPA, who said he found violations in nine other stores
operated by the firm in Morrisville, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, all of Pennsylvania, and Syracuse, Binghamton and two suburbs near New York.

Previously, Thornton said overcharging was found in ten of thirteen Philadelphia stores visited, and also in two Trenton, N. J., one Camden, N. J., and one Palmyra, N. J., stores.

The testimony was given in the second day of a hearing on an injunction suit brought by OPA to restrain the firm from charging over-ceiling prices and to require posting of proper grade and point
outlets in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia,
West Virginia, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

Judge Ganey said any further testimony along the same lines by other witnesses would be "cumulative and repetitious, and serve no good purpose and only take up the time of the court, counsel and others."

Clarence J. Corcoran, company counsel, said he planned to call at least fifty witnesses, including fifteen officials of the company who would testify that it has always been the policy of the American Stores Company to obey the law.

Germany Charges Sweden Provides U. S. Bomber Base

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 14 (AP)—Dr.
Paul Schmidt, German foreign office spokesman, in a statement in Berlin today accused the Swedish press of fomenting "enmity" between Sweden and Germany, and declared Sweden was "being systematically exploited by belligerent America as an assembly place for its bombers."

(Swedish-German relations have deteriorated recently, with Sweden formally protesting announced German intentions to sink any ship in the Baltic sea and Gulf of Bothnia without warning and with Stockholm reporting Monday night that the Swedish-German trade treaty would be allowed to expire
Jan. 1.)

The German foreign office
spokesman's statement, as reporting here by Swedish newspapers, Berlin correspondents said, "I must point out that thousands of Norwegians being trained in Sweden as policemen could be used in action in Norway."

Battle Germans In Icy Weather On Arctic Front

Nazis in Retreat
To Defense Lines

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Norwegian troops, re-invading their own homeland from the British Isles, have landed in Norway and are operating with the Russians against the Germans on the Arctic front, the Norwegian exiled government announced tonight.

Swarming ashore somewhere in the far north, the first detachments to return since the ill-fated 1940 campaign joined the Russians as the Germans, in retreat over the barren wastes of Finnmark, prepared defense lines in the South against a possible Allied invasion.

Small Number in Action
The small vanguard, numbering under 500, was led home by Col.
Arne Dahl, commander of the famous Alta battalion during the last bitter days of Norway's hopeless stand at Narvik.

Dahl also returned as head of a Norwegian military mission which includes representatives of the navy,
air forces, and a number of government departments.

One was a representative of the minister of justice, sent to carry out measures to deal with Quislings and traitors.

With the announcement that Norwegian troops were operating on home soil, a government spokesman reported "increasing numbers" of Germans in retreat from Finnmark to Troms province, who were leaving a trail of "nightmarish devastation."

Large units of German infantry and motorized troops were said to be moving west along highway 50,
the main force now being at Por-sangerfjord.

Coastal Town Wiped Out
The spokesman said the coastal town of Vadsø and Varde had been "completely wiped out" and that their inhabitants had been sent fleeing into the barren wastes without shelter or food.

The Germans were also reported to have razed the fishing settlements of Mehamn, Berlevaag, Gam-vik, and Kamoev. The only building left standing in Kantoinevo
was the old people's home.

The spokesman said the Germans were reported to have ordered the destruction of every building from Narvik northwards, and the removal of the whole population.

It appeared likely that other Norwegian detachments from the British Isles will soon follow those which have joined the Russians.

British Blow Up Nine Nazi Ships

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The British home fleet struck another blow
at what is left of German seapower
Sunday night, soon after the sinking of the battleship Tirpitz by the RAF, when it blew up or sank nine ships of an eleven-ship convoy off Norway and drove a tenth Nazi vessel ashore, it was disclosed tonight.

Two cruisers and four destroyers
swooped down on the German convoy rounding Lister Fjord, south of Egersund, Norway, traveling north and inflicted the losses without material damage to themselves. The Nazi convoy, an admiralty communicate reported, included several M-class minesweepers and was taken entirely by surprise.

"In order to carry out the attack,"
the communicate said, "his majesty's ships had to steam close inshore, bringing them within range of enemy coastal batteries. The shore batteries joined in the action,
but their fire, although spectacular,
was ineffective and none of his majesty's ships sustained any material damage."

NEW SKY GIANT TO SPAN THE ATLANTIC AIRWAYS

HERE IS A SCALE MODEL of the DC-7 air transport that will be put into use by Pan American World Airways as soon as conditions permit. The new plane dwarfs present-day airliners, with a wingspread greater than a sixteen-story building, and having eighty-one-ton gross weight. It is double the size of Boeing clippers now in use. The huge clipper will carry 108 passengers and a crew of ten at speeds over 300 miles an hour.

Choice Offered Nazis: Can Be Killed by Allies or Shot By Own Soldiers, Himmler Advises

By FRANKLIN BAKER
WITH THE UNITED STATES
SECOND ARMORED DIVISION
ON THE WESTERN FRONT, Nov.
14 (AP)—Declaring that "our will to resist is the only thing we have left," the Nazi party has advised all German soldiers to shoot anyone contemplating surrender.

Applying these instructions to anyone, "whether he be a superior officer, an ordinary fellow or a close buddy," the party publication
"Scorpion," which is distributed to the troops, said that these admittedly "revolutionary" measures were formulated by Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler.

A captured copy of "Scorpion" said, "even if it should happen that cowardly treacherous elements take advantage of this right in order to remove unpopular
superiors, this newly-won liberty
of action should not be restricted."

The paper then went on to remark that "any scruples that military discipline may be endangered by such individual action shall not frighten us... even if it should happen that cowardly treacherous
elements take advantage of this
right in order to remove unpopular
superiors, this newly-won liberty
of action should not be restricted."

Loss of Tirpitz
May Have Effect
On Pacific War
The death of the giant Nazi superbattleship Tirpitz, sunk in Norwegian waters by six-ton British "blockbusters," came too late in the European war to be of prime importance on that front. But its sinking will have effect in the Pacific area.

Already badly crippled in previous British air and submarine raids upon her hideouts, she had been living on borrowed time for months.
She had become a Nazi liability rather than a military asset, a naval lame-duck fleeing approaching Russian ground forces in Norway.

The ship did have certain diversion value for Germany's Japanese war accomplish. While it remained afloat a squadron of Britain's most modern battleships must necessarily remain in Atlantic waters to guard against the possibility that the Tirpitz might be repaired.

That deferred the day when the full weight of British capital ship power would be thrown against Japan. With the Tirpitz sunk the main battle strength of Britain's home fleet obviously can be shifted to the Bay of Bengal immediately.

The only sea force of battleship caliber still in Axis hands is what is left of the Japanese navy. The London admiralty is just as anxious to come to grips with it as Admiral Nimitz.

The more big ships there are available when the Allied trek back to the Malay peninsula—Singapore, Sumatra and Java begins, the sooner the Japanese hold on the whole southern end of the China Sea can be broken. In view of now favorable weather conditions in Indian waters, action of some sort against Japanese-held areas is clearly indicated.

It will come the sooner because of the sinking of the Tirpitz.

Yanks Reported Only Two Miles From Objective

Nazi Resistance
Less Formidable

By HOWARD COWAN
LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—American troops, crashing in upon Metz from three directions, were only two miles from the famous fortress city on the south and southeast tonight and a front dispatch declared its fall appeared to be but a matter of days,
if not hours.

As the Americans closed in here
for the kill, the British Second army 150 miles to the north opened a strong drive in Southeastern Holland and in the initial stages stormed across two canals and occupied at least two towns.

Resistance Is Light
Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's forces, who opened their winter offensive
just a week ago, met astonishingly light resistance as they smashed in upon reputedly impregnable Metz.
As the main force came up from the south and southeast, other units advanced to points within three miles of the city on the west.

"Barring a stand in the old inner fortresses and house-to-house fighting, the fall of the city appeared to be a matter of days, if not hours," declared Lewis Hawkins, Associated Press correspondent with the Third army.

He said there was strong indication that the Nazis meant to give up the great stronghold without a major fight and that the bulk of enemy forces had been withdrawn from the area under cover of long nights and bad weather.

Decision at Hand
As the fighting around Metz thus approached its climax, toward a swift and totally unanticipated climax, the British troops in Southeastern Holland lashed out behind a roaring barrage of 400 guns in a strong drive of the Dutch village of Nederweert, eighteen miles southwest of Venlo and some 38 miles northwest of Aachen.

An hour after Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery sent his forces churning toward the German border a spokesman for the British Second army declared "the attack is going according to plan." An Associated Press field dispatch said
the assault was making "amazingly good headway."

Cigarets Sold At Heavy Loss After Auction

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 (AP)—A chain drug store bought 218½ cartons of "name brand" cigarettes for $903 at a post office auction today, and arranged to deliver the precious packages to a local store tomorrow
on an armored truck.

The smokes, purchased for an average of forty-one cents a pack,
will be resold to the public at Illinois's ceiling price of eighteen cents. Twenty cartons will be donated to Edward H. Hines Jr. Memorial Hospital for Veterans.

The auction crowd, which sat patiently through more than two hours' desultory bidding on such items as mantillas, fish-nets, horse-collars and playing cards, stirred to attention as the auctioneer shouted
"here's what you've been waiting for." Almost a hundred hopeful smokers rushed to open the contest.
They felt less hopeful when the first batch of twelve cartons was knocked down to the drug chain for $106.

The sky was the limit on prices
because, Postmaster Ernest Krueger said, the OPA ruled in 1943
that ceiling prices were not applicable to sales of "undeliverable matter."

One batch of a dozen cartons went for $80 to a newspaper reporter.

quantities overseas to our armed forces.

He added, however, that the manufacturers of lesser known brands are now making "many more" cigarettes than before the war.
Production for domestic consumption, excluding all output for shipment overseas, is now greater than in any year but 1943 but demand has risen sharply since the war began, Bowles said.

Concurrently with the Bowles
statement, the Office of War Information reported that this country's armed forces abroad smoked about one sixth of America's total of cigaret production last year and that during the first seven months of this year they smoked slightly more than one-fourth of the overall output.

Byrnes Will Remain Aid to FDR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—
Will Germany capitulate, the hand-picked assistant president? James F.
Byrnes will guide the nation's war policy and preparation for its return to peace.

President Roosevelt announced that he had persuaded Byrnes,
a second time, to postpone his return to private life and to continue as director of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion until V-day in Europe.

Roosevelt Decrees Simple Fourth Inauguration "To Save Money"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt has decided to do away with the usual inaugural trappings and take his fourth term oath in a simple White House ceremony.

His decision to forego the customary Capitol Hill formalities and parade was announced today by a congressional inaugural committee which applauded it as a sensible prime move.

Amplifying at his news conference
this announcement, Mr. Roosevelt said he had made his choice because it would save money. He said the whole cost could be held down to $10,000, he said, adding that most of that would go for connoisseurs
of a la king and coffee at a reception.

The congressional committee had been contemplating expending about $100,000, Mr. Roosevelt said. It is

WLB HEARING OFFICER RECOMMENDS INCREASES FOR TRUCK DRIVERS

Wage increases equalizing pay rates between truck drivers of this area with those of the Hagerstown area have been recommended by the principal hearing officer of the Trucking commission of the War Labor Board, Charles E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union (AFL), announced yesterday.

Jay Oliver, the hearing officer, has recommended that drivers, warehousemen and other workers employed in this city receive a four cents an hour increase and that men on inter-city routes be given approximately a five per cent increase in wages.

The hearing was a result of a joint stipulation between the union and eight local companies for action by a hearing officer after the teamsters threatened to strike about two months ago, Stutzman said. The increase, which would affect about sixty workers, must be approved by the War Labor Board.

PAUL CRAWFORD IS WOUNDED IN HOLLAND

A Cumberland soldier has been wounded in Holland and another is a prisoner of the Germans, according to yesterday's war casualty report.

Pvt. Paul F. Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Crawford, 1100 Michigan avenue, was wounded in Holland October 28. He is the husband of Mrs. Merry Growden Crawford, a petty officer third class in the WAVES, who is stationed at Arlington, Va.

A graduate of Fort Hill high school, Pvt. Crawford was employed by the B and O railroad prior to entering the service August 5, 1943. He went overseas last June.

Tech. Sgt. Joseph S. Kenney, son of Mrs. Clara V. Kenney, 108 West Third street, is a prisoner of the Germans, according to a War department message to his mother yesterday. Sgt. Kenney was previously reported missing in action in France since July 31.

A veteran of seven years in the army, Sgt. Kenney went overseas last January with an infantry outfit. He has four brothers in the service, one of whom, Pfc. Woodrow Kenney, the father of six children, returned home Monday after receiving an honorable discharge. The other three brothers are Pvt. Robert Kenney, in Italy; Pvt. Richard Kenney, stationed at Newport News, Va., and Staff Sgt. Samuel Kenney, now stationed in England. Sgt. Kenney has been in the army for nine years.

Pvt. Emmett Conlon Recovers from Wounds

Quoting an Englishman who said, "Ah! The great to be alive," Pvt. Emmett R. Conlon wrote his parents that he has recovered from wounds received in action September 10 and is ready for combat duty again.

Pvt. Conlon sent his parents a photograph of himself and Pfc. Thomas D. Ricker, husband of Mrs. Beatrice C. Ricker, Williams road. Ricker was wounded in France September 6. Both servicemen were standing and smiling in the picture.

Pvt. Conlon, in an English hospital, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Conlon, Frostburg.

Two Births Reported

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McManis, Oakland, announce the birth of a son in Memorial hospital Monday evening.

British Gain 2 Miles in Italy

By LYNN HEINZLERING

ROME, Nov. 14 (AP)—The British Eighth army has won the coastal highway bridge over the Ghaia canal before Ravenna and in important gains of up to two miles in the Forlì area, captured the village of San Tome. Allied headquarters announced today.

Eighth army units which crossed the Ghaia canal yesterday cut back across highway sixteen—the coastal highway—and captured the German rearguard holding the bridge. The Germans were surrounded while engaged in meeting the Allied frontal attack from south of the canal, and the expertly executed maneuver gave the Allies an important new foothold on the approaches to Ravenna.

In capturing San Tome northwest of Forlì the Allied troops took 100 prisoners.

The desert air force was cooperating closely with ground troops advancing slowly northwest of Forlì on a 1,500-yard front against German infantry and tanks.

Southwest of Forlì, the town of San Varano was found to be clear of the enemy but heavily mined, and British troops crossed the Montone southwest of the village at two points. The Germans counterattacked strongly at the lower crossing, but Allied positions were maintained.

French Seeking Huge Loan Here

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The French are seeking approximately two billion dollars worth of United States exports during the next twelve months for use in rebuilding their country, it was learned tonight.

Arrangements for the huge procurement program already are nearing completion. Some of the goods may be shipped on lend-lease because they are considered necessary to France's war effort against Germany or Japan but the great bulk will go partly for cash and, officials hope, partly on credit.

The French program, probably the farthest advanced on the economic plans to come out of liberated Europe, calls for purchasing 700 locomotives as well as comparable quantities of railway rolling stock and truck equipment; trucks for highway transport; huge shipments of cotton, fertilizers, and other raw materials.

It has recently been revised as a result of the discovery upon the liberation of France that the ravages of war had not been as great as officials first believed. The amounts of factory equipment desired have been sharply reduced and the amounts of raw materials required to keep existing French factories running have been greatly increased. Similarly there was a reduction in food required and an increase in fertilizer and other food producing materials.

both the Atlantic and Pacific, and became an electrician's mate first class in 1924. He was attached to the West Virginia until January, 1929, during which time he visited Australia, Honolulu and France.

In 1929, after being assigned to an oil tanker, he made two trips to the Philippine islands and one trip to Shanghai, China, after which he returned to Norfolk and was stationed at the naval base there for two years.

Assigned to Cruiser

During that time he put several destroyers into commission, and made a trip on one of them through the Panama canal to San Diego, where he was stationed until December, 1932. Early in 1933 he returned to New York city and attended fire patrol school, after which he was assigned to the USS New Orleans, a cruiser.

He remained aboard the cruiser for two years, visiting Stockholm, Sweden; Copenhagen, Denmark; Amsterdam, Holland, and Portsmouth, England, on the ship's shakedown cruise. At Stockholm King Gustaf of Sweden came aboard for an official visit; and at Copenhagen, King Christian of Denmark and Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, the American minister to the Scandinavian countries at that time, also visited the ship.

Returning to the West Coast in 1935, Spiker was aboard the New Orleans when she escorted President Roosevelt to Honolulu on an official inspection trip early that year. He took part in tactical maneuvers in Alaska and Lima, Peru, until late in 1936, when he returned to the Brooklyn navy yard.

Witnesses Coronation

There Spiker was assigned to the USS Jacob Jones, a destroyer, and received a commendation for assisting the American Red Cross to evacuate victims of the Louisville flood in 1937. Spiker witnessed the coronation of King George VI in May, 1937, after going to England aboard the USS New York, a battleship.

In July, 1939, he was placed on inactive duty, but in April, 1940, Spiker was called back to active service and attended the mines school at Yorktown, Va. He was aboard a patrol boat and minesweeper until December, 1941, after which he took private yachts turned over to the government at Norfolk, where they were converted into patrol boats.

In January, 1943, Spiker visited Oran, North Africa, aboard the USS Pepperwood, a submarine net tender. He was promoted to his present rank in July, 1943, two months before his return to this country.

Spiker was assigned to his present ship, the USS Henric, in October, 1943. Since that time he has visited Glasgow, Scotland, and England, in preparation for the Normandy invasion June 6. He also visited Oran, Naples, and Marselles before the invasion of Southern France last August 15.

Spiker will be a guest at the regular luncheon meeting of the Lions club in the Central YMCA at 12:15 p. m. today. He will report back to his ship November 24 for further duty.

FULL MILITARY RITES ARE PLANNED FOR CPL. W. E. MILLER

Wilbur Earl "Bill" Miller, 26, 538 Central avenue, who was killed instantly when the four-engine bomber in which he was flying crashed and burned last Friday evening near Clovis, N. M., army air field.

The body, accompanied by a military escort, will arrive here Thursday afternoon and will be taken to the home of his widow, Mrs. Irene Reall Miller, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Miller, 538 Central avenue.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. in Melvin chapel, Reynolds street, by the pastor, the Rev. Joseph W. Young. Interment will be in Greenmount cemetery.

American Airmen Cruelly Treated, Sgt. Grady Says

Local Flier Who Was a Prisoner in Bulgaria Returns Home

Tech. Sgt. Gerald W. Grady, husband of Mrs. Wilda Lovenstein Grady, of LaVale, who was released from a Bulgarian prisoner of war camp on Sept. 8, arrived here Saturday on a thirty-day furlough. Yesterday he related a story of the inhumane treatment he and other captured American airmen suffered at the hands of the Bulgarians.

Sgt. Grady was burned severely over his back, face and hands and was peppered with shrapnel wounds, before being out on the morning of June 23, when his plane became a mass of flames from the explosion of a shell inside the ship. His parachute harness was burned away and he hit the air supporting himself by his hands alone entangled in the dangling shroud of his parachute. Brackets of scars around each of his wrists bear testimony to the struggle it was to hold on during the long drop to the earth.

Taken to the prison infirmary, Sgt. Grady was left to himself, and as he was unable to raise his burned hands to his lips he had to go five days and nights without food or water. He said that another American in the same ward was forced to remain in a sitting position until he died. He had been shot in the stomach and elementary treatment of his wounds called for his remaining in a prone position.

Sgt. Grady witnessed the clubbing of another wounded American over the head with the butt of a gun by a prison guard. This incident was widely publicized in the United States after Bulgaria's capitulation to bear out the assertion of the released prisoners that they had been harshly treated in captivity.

The local aviator said that during bombing raids the American airmen were forced to remain in the hospital while the hospital attendants, guards and Bulgarian patients hustled off to the air raid shelters. He told of another American flier with a shattered leg, who he said, was left without attention for twenty-six hours. He said another one died after going three days and nights with neither food nor medical attention.

Sgt. Grady wears the Purple Heart, the Distinguished Flying Cross, and Aid Medal with an Oak Leaf Cluster and three stars, emblematic of action at Anzio, Southern France and supremacy of the air over Europe.

Hunters To Take To Woods Today

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—License sales indicate a record crop of Maryland hunters in the field when the season opens tomorrow, E. Lee LeCompte, state game warden, announced today.

Prospects for the hunters are bright in spite of the state warden's report that game was plentiful due to the open winter and bountiful food. He said the sale of licenses, particularly the tremendous increase in duck blind licenses, indicated that hunters had secured the necessary shells. 85,000 licenses of more than 150,000 licenses in September, together with a heavy last-minute rush of applicants will establish a new record, LeCompte predicted.

Commentator Says Communists Cost Him Radio Job

MEMPHIS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Upton Close, veteran radio news commentator, said today in an interview that "National Broadcasting Company, pressured by various sources, has served notice on my radio sponsor, Sheaffer Pen Company, that it will no longer sell them time on the air if I am not dropped."

Close told a Press-Scimitar reporter that "certain radical and communist elements" were responsible for the action that will remove him from the Sunday afternoon broadcast spot he has occupied for twenty-seven months. He was objectionable, he said, because of discussion on "the dangers of communism" during his commentary.

Will See It Through
"I'm perfectly willing to be the guinea pig to determine whether freedom of the air can be maintained in the face of un-American pressure to destroy American principles," Close said, adding he would "see it through." He declined to discuss his next move.

Close said his sponsor had accepted the NBC decision "from necessity" and that, in turn, networks are "fighting for their lives" and are in no position to protest vigorously.

Hired through NBC

In Port Madison, Ia., C. R. Sheaffer, president of the pen company, said the firm did not hire Close directly, but arranged for his services through NBC.

"It's true that NBC notified us it wouldn't sell Close after December 10," Sheaffer said. "We aren't in a position to state the reasons because we don't know them. Our contract concerning Close's services has always been direct with NBC. We have no contractual relations with Close and never have had."

In New York, a spokesman said the National Broadcasting Company would have no comment to make.

Nazis May Have Abandoned Plans To Bomb U. S. Ports

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Months of unsuccessful experiments with twenty-ton rockets have delayed the Germans' V-2 timetable and convinced them it would be impossible to use rockets against America in this war, a usually well-informed source suggested today.

The monstrous rocket originally was designated as V-2, this informant said, and had a twelve-ton warhead. Large supplies of critically needed war material were given top priority for its production, he added, continuing:

Hundreds of the rockets were launched towards experimental zones but failed to reach the ground. German scientists theorized that friction created by their great weight and speed caused them to disintegrate in the stratosphere.

The Germans finally decided to reduce the size of the rocket. The present V-2 weapon with a one-ton warhead was the outgrowth. Experiments with such missiles of the size needed to be fired against America virtually have been abandoned because of the disappointing results of the original V-2, he said.

New Legislation Asked of Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—A flurry of requests for new legislation greeted Congress today as it reassembled for a six weeks session before adjourning for the newly-elected Congress next January.

Fewer than half the members were on hand when Speaker Rayburn and Vice President Wallace banged their gavels at noon. Leaders leaned to the view that it was useless to undertake more than a brief legislative program in the dying days of this Congress.

They began mapping a short schedule topped by extension of the president's extraordinary war powers, now due to expire December 31, and revival of crop insurance which both Democratic and Republican party platforms endorsed.

Many Retailers Cannot Sell Goods

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Approximately 180 retailers of women's, misses' and children's outer apparel, about one-half of them in the Baltimore area, will be prohibited from making sales after mid-night tomorrow, the Maryland Office of Price Administration said today.

The dealers failed to file a copy of their pricing chart with the state OPA headquarters, Clothing Price Specialist Alan R. Wurtzburger said, thus disqualifying themselves.

Girdle Is Back With 2-Way Stretch

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—The girdle, hard-hit by the rubber shortage in the early days of the war conversion program, is back on the market with "prewar" two-way stretch, fit and comfort.

So says the United States Rubber Company, in announcing development of a new synthetic rubber thread which it said makes possible resumption of manufacture of "Lastex."

Roosevelt Receives Letter from Dewey

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he had received a letter from Governor Thomas E. Dewey, unsuccessful opponent of the fourth term, but he gave no hint of its contents. When they asked at his news conference what the letter contained Mr. Roosevelt said he is sorry but reporters can't see his personal files.

Sees Big Demand For "Packaged Homes"

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (AP)—A large housing demand for "packaged homes" was predicted today by Hugh E. Rosson, Portland, Ore., head of the Home Planners' Institute of the Equitable Savings and Loan Association.

In a talk to the United States Savings and Loan League he said, "when the prospective purchaser is shown a new home, complete with such equipment as refrigerators, stove, water heater, laundry machines and other modern appliances, the builder sees easier sales," he said, "and the inclusion of these items in the mortgage removes a frequent cause of trouble from the lender's point of view."

Congressmen Will Tour Battle Fronts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The House Military committee has arranged to fly to Europe next month for an inspection of battle fronts.

Chairman May (D-Ky) said today all arrangements have been made and only the date of departure remains to be determined. The trip will last three weeks.

The nominating committee of the United Democratic Women's Club and a committee to draw up a resolution in memory of Mrs. Elizabeth R. Menefee, judge of the juvenile court, were appointed by Mrs. W. J. Fleming at the meeting of the club last evening at the Central YMCA.

Mrs. Howard Loughrie was appointed chairman of the nominating committee with Mrs. Anna Reed and Mrs. Margaret Dowling assisting. The election of officers will be held at the meeting December 12.

Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. Joseph H. Griffin and Mrs. Loughrie were appointed to draw up a resolution honoring the memory of Mrs. Menefee.

Reports on the state convention held recently in Baltimore were given by Mrs. Dowling and Mrs. Paul Stein. They announced that Mrs. August Kleck, Baltimore city, was elected state president. They also gave resumes of the talks of Governor Herbert R. O'Connor and Senator Millard E. Tydings at the banquet and of Mrs. Tydings at the luncheon. They also reported on the Roosevelt rally held at the Lyric theater, which the group attended in a body.

A donation of $10 was voted by the club for the War Fund drive. Two new members were received into the club and routine business transacted.

Roosevelt Plans Seven New Waterways

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today the administration hopes in time to have seven waterway authorities similar to the huge Tennessee Valley Authority.

He did not set out the seven regions to his news conference, but he mentioned such water sheds as the Missouri river, the Mississippi, Arkansas, Columbia and Ohio rivers.

The subject arose over a reporter's statement that a senator had said the Missouri Valley Authority plan "would be dead" if the plans drawn by the army engineers are adopted.

Club Has Meeting

A program on "Radio and Children" featured the meeting of the Progressive Mothers Club Monday at the little house, Mrs. W. J. Crammer, Jr., presided and plans were made for a mothers and children's Christmas party, December 16.

Mrs. John Robb read a paper on "Children's Choice of Radio Programs" and Mrs. William Dugan, on "Radio in the Family."

Wedding Anniversary Is Observed by Mr. and Mrs. Hinkle

Mr. Sweitzer officiating. They have two children, Mrs. C. W. Rhind and John Raymond Hinkle.

A silver and white color scheme was carried out in the three tiered wedding cake, which centered the table and was repeated in the chrysanthemums and tapers which decorated the table and were repeated throughout the house. Mrs. H. B. Clark and Mrs. B. A. Wolford assisted the hostess in receiving the guests; while Mrs. Rhind, Mrs. John Mardorf, Mrs. Donald Sharps, Mrs. Leo Horner and Mrs. Luwain Wallizer assisted in the dining room.

The club contributed $100 to the National War Fund campaign and $125 for musical instruments for a hospital ship. The National Federation of Music Clubs has undertaken to provide the instruments for all hospital ships returning wounded servicemen.

Maryland was one of the states to receive the War service three star award at the board meeting of the national group, Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. Henry C. Swearingen announced. The report of $236.59 raised with the concert last month at Allegany high school, was given.

As an encore Mrs. Pickering sang "My Dear Little Shamrock" by Jackson, Mrs. Richard W. Trevasakis was at the piano.

A recording of the Shostakovich Fifth Symphony was played with the program notes given by Mrs. Mable Pope. Use of Force against Aggressor Nations Is Favored by British

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 14—John Bull, average British citizen, places his stamp of approval upon that part of the Dumbarton Oaks plan looking toward the use of force against aggressor nations.

This is shown in a recent dispatch from the affiliate British Institute of Public Opinion in which a cross-section of the British populace was asked:

"Should the United Nations adopt the principle of using force against aggressor nations when this war has ended?"

The results:

Think Principle of Force Should be Adopted . . . 77%
Think not . . . 10%
Uncertain . . . 13%

Most of those who think the principle of force against aggressors should be adopted are willing to go even farther. They would have Britain accept the majority decision of those voting on whether to use force against any nation being considered as a peace violator, even though she herself might be opposed to the use of aggression at the time.

This issue was put to Britons as follows:

"Do you think Britain should remain free to decide whether or not to use force against an 'aggressor' nation, or should agree to vote with the rest of the United Nations and accept the result?"

The vote on this question:

Think Britain Should Remain Free to Decide Herself . . . 23%
Think Britain Should Vote with Other Nations and Accept Result . . . 63%
Uncertain . . . 14%

A majority of the British public are also in sympathy with that part of the Dumbarton Oaks agreement looking forward to the time when France will ("in due course") become one of a Big-Five entitled to permanent seats on the eleven-man security council.

The majority of Britons questioned think France is destined once again to become a great power, although, as answers to the following question show, a fairly large minority still are dubious about France's future role.

"Do you think France will again be a great power?"

Yes . . . 53%
No . . . 26%
Uncertain . . . 21%

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 10¢ and 25¢.

Bible Class Reports

A nominating committee comprising Mesdames James E. Kelley, Jr., and Nat Guggenheimer and Miss Henrietta Schwarzenbach was named last evening by directors of the Cumberland Police Boys Club for the annual election of eight directors which will be held Monday, December 11.

Seven directors are elected annually but the number was increased to eight due to the death of Mrs. Elizabeth R. Menefee. The club's directorship comprises twenty-one members.

A report read by Charles U. Wiebel and Sheriff David Steele showed that the Duke Memorial Bible Class had purchased "Y" memberships for 100 members of the Police Boys' Club. This figure represents an outlay of $500.

The program sponsored by the bible class is to encourage church and Sunday school attendance among the boys. Pastors of twenty-three churches sign cards which entitle members to enjoy the facilities of the Central YMCA.

THANKSGIVING

hasn't changed

It has been 321 years since the Pilgrims first set aside a day of Thanksgiving, but we're still thankful for exactly the same blessings... for a land of plenty—a land of freedom and opportunity for all.

They fought to establish these things—we're fighting today to retain them. So, when you sit down to your Thanksgiving turkey—just as the Pilgrims did, and as our fighting men all over the world will do—give thanks primarily that you're an American, living in the finest, freest land under the sun.

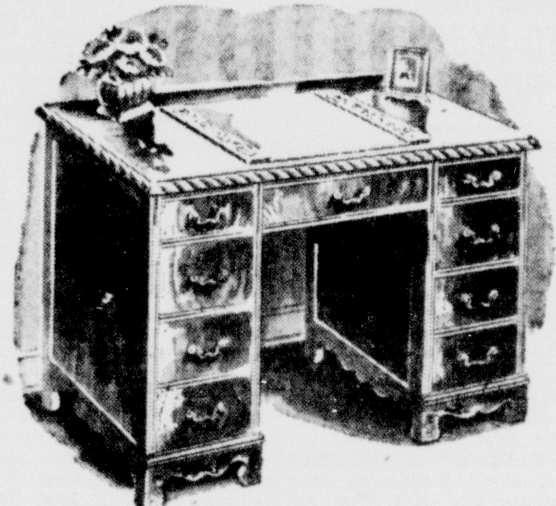

And remember that—while our conditions have made it difficult for us to supply many of our friends, and impossible to supply some—the standards of Duquesne Pilsener haven't changed either. It's still the same true premium-quality beer, mellow and delicious, worth asking for and worth waiting for.

The Gas Flame is My Guide to Better Living

Gas that has done such a wonderful war job helping to turn out our weapons, will bring many comforts and conveniences to our new homes.

That Gas flame certainly is versatile and I've made it my guide to the better living we expect after the war. I've enjoyed its advantages for years, but I understand that research will make all Gas equipment even better.

And added to the grand job Gas has been doing in home heating, cooking, refrigeration, and water heating, Gas is going to give us full scale summer cooling of our homes that will be the last word in healthful comfort and convenience.

My post-war home will enjoy all the new freedoms that only Gas brings—with its cleanliness, convenience and economy.

P. S.—Buy and hold those War Bonds so YOU'LL be able to invest in new Gas equipment as soon as the job is over—over there.

Many Industrials and Rails Weaken In Final Hour on the Stock Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Leading industrials and rails weakened in the final hour of today's stock market and closing losses of fractions to a point or so were widespread with scattered issues conceding more than 2.

Liquidation tapered in the forenoon and here and there recoveries appeared. The downward push was resumed in the final hour with volume picking up appreciably.

Transfers totaled 1,100,989 shares compared with 917,760 Monday.

Prominent on the slide were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Atlantic Coast Line, Goodrich

Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, Sperry, Western Union, A. A. Woolworth, Kennecott, Texas Co., Westinghouse, DuPont, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, International Harvester and Philip Morris. Electric Boat was off 1/4 at 12 1/2 when the navy cancelled an $85,000,000 contract with this concern.

Ganewell Co. common jumped 2 points at one time and ended up 1/2 apparently spurred by the proposal of directors for a 3-for-1 stock split-up.

In the Curb electric Bond & Share finished up 1/4, and Niagara Hudson Power 1/4. On the offside were Aluminum of America, American Cyanamid, B. Cities Service and Pennroad. Turnover here was 305,060 shares versus 288,809 yesterday.

With scattered exceptions among investment rated corporates, the bond market fell back fractions to a point or so.

Governments were about a stand-off. Trading activity expanded slightly to $7,887,000 from $7,503,700 on Monday.

Frostburg Honor Roll Has Nearly a Thousand Names

Committee Seeks Funds and Suggestions for More Development

By RUDOLPH NICKEL
FROSTBURG, Nov. 14 — The Frostburg honor roll, which was constructed at the corner of Water and West Main streets by William E. Harding, Salisbury, Pa., under a contract, dated November 10, 1942, now contains the names of nearly 1,000 Frostburg men and women who are with the armed forces in this country and in various parts of the world.

The contract for the board was for two years at a monthly rental of $20. At the date of the expiration of the contract, November 10, 1944, the committee estimates that there are nearly 200 names that are not on the honor roll because the contractor says he has not been able to secure sufficient help to service the boards.

Names on the board of those who have died since Pearl Harbor are: Ensign Davis Beck, Sgt. Evan Boyer, Pvt. Darby J. Brady, Pfc. Robert C. Brown, Pfc. John Broadbeck, Pfc. Kenneth DeVault, Pvt. Edward L. Gomer, Pvt. Joseph J. Grimes, Pvt. John M. Grimes, Pfc. Oliver L. Hager, Pvt. Francis E. Harvey, Lt. Daniel H. Mayer, Pfc. Mack Moot, Mire, Cpl. Arthur D. Neal, Pvt. Richard Rhoades, Pfc. John E. Ralston, Lt. Walter R. Simon, Lt. Jack F. Thomas and Staff Sgt. Ralph W. Thomas, a total of nineteen.

In addition to the above list of local boys who have died for their country, several boys from surrounding communities have died in the current war. Their names appear on the honor rolls erected in the communities in which they resided.

The committee in charge of Frostburg's honor roll is planning to secure funds to complete payments due on the present Frostburg honor roll and are anxious to receive suggestions as to the best manner of giving public recognition to those who are now and may hereafter be called to serve with the armed forces, as well as to those who have died at war.

Fourteen Called
Fourteen registrants from draft board No. 4 will leave Frostburg Friday morning, November 17, at 6:15 a. m., for the Baltimore induction station where they will be assigned for duty with the armed forces.

The gifts, collected through the efforts of Miss Ernestine V. Wittig, proprietor of the O. and D. Novelty Shop, consisted of all types of infant wearing apparel, nursery furnishings, baby toilet articles, toys, jewelry, flowers and numerous congratulatory cards.

Cash donations were also included. The mayor and council appropriating $25 as a gift from the city. Local fraternal groups made sizeable donations.

Other gifts included orders for groceries, theater tickets for the parents, shave and hair cut credit tickets for the father and free hair dressings and manicures at local beauty parlors for the mother. Additional gifts received at the O. and D. Novelty shop will be presented at a later date.

The babies will be named Harold William, John Howard and Carol Ann.

Committee Appointed
The mayor and city commissioners appointed a committee consisting of Charles Stewart, Rudolph Nickel, Emily D. Baker, Prof. Earl Rain, Miss Grace Pinzel, Frank T. Powers and F. Earl Kriebitzburg to operate with city officials in raising funds to supply the Frostburg Victory ship with a library. The committee will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the city hall to formulate plans.

It was suggested by the city council last evening that Mrs. Katherine Skidmore, wife of Mayor Marshall Skidmore, be designated to christen the ship, which is to be launched November 16, or near that date.

Skidmore has a son, Seaman Skidmore, serving with the

TALE OF A TEXAS SHIRT TAIL

Servicemen's Subscription to Home Town's Weekly Newsletter Is Small Bit of Official Garb Cloth

By Central Press

DALHART, Tex. — A soldier or sailor overseas is willing to part with the shirt tail off his back to get a letter from home. And hundreds of servicemen from this city in the Texas Panhandle are literally parting with them.

During the past six months shirt tails from every branch of service — Marine green, Navy whites, blue and workaday denim, Coast Guard whites, Army OD, sun-tan, and fatigue green — have been pulled out of their wearers' trousers from Burma to Boulogne and mailed to the desk of Ed Bishop, publisher of a Dalhart newspaper.

The saga of the shirt tails is more than a symbol of a Texas hometown's interest in its boys overseas. The story is rapidly becoming Panhandle legend.

Tale of the shirt tails began when Bishop received a letter from one of the hometown boys serving in the South Pacific.

"Gee, the Marine corporal wrote, 'I'm sure a long way from town out here. I'd give the shirt off my back for a good, long letter from home.'

Bishop believed that here was a problem his newspaper might try to solve.

How could the paper help boost morale overseas? And how at the same time, could attention be drawn to writing more letters to the sons and husbands thousands of lonely miles from Texas?

Bishop then called in his managing editor, Albert Law, and the two worked out the idea of their weekly letter to servicemen from the Texan. With Law doing most of the writing, the first letter was mailed to hundreds of APO addresses supplied by wives and sweethearts and families of Dalhart servicemen.

The letters were full of the kind of small town journalism that the boys were hungry for: anecdotes, personal items about their friends and neighbors, thoughtful mentions of how much the men overseas were missed and how everyone in Dalhart was working for the day when they could come home.

The catch line in one of these early letters was straight to the point. The soldiers, sailors and marines were told that these first letters were complimentary.

If regular subscriptions were wanted, the men could buy them only with the shirts off their backs. In short, the subscription fee was a piece of shirt tail. And fees were due.

If enough shirt tails came in,

SHIRT TAIL—This bit of shirt tail came all the way from India.

Bishop added, they would be fashioned into a sort of crazy-quilt flag given a decidedly personal touch by every Dalhart boy serving his country.

The first shirt tail arrived two weeks later, and they have been coming steadily ever since from every combat theater and station.

Enlisted men send snips from their government issue shirts. Officers send slicker cloth but the same kind of cut. Everyone wanted the weekly letters, and everyone sent a letter of his own.

Wrote a major from the South Pacific: "It's the only clean shirt I've got, but I'd give you the whole thing for one of those letters."

Sgt. F. K. Rotan missed the letter but heard about the subscription. He wrote on his shirt tail and sent from India: "What you want this for beats the hell out of me!"

Sgt. Clyde Freeman, European theater: "Thought I'd better get on the ball if I wanted my shirt tail in the flag."

The wife of a Dalhart sailor who made seven trips into the Pacific on a merchant ship:

"Your letter sure means a lot to us. I'm sending a piece of my work shirt. On a sailor's tailor-mades or dress blues, you can't find a scrap to cut off without ruining the whole blouse."

Success of the venture at home as well as abroad, Bishop says, is revealed in response of Dalhart townpeople. At first the letter was financed by the paper, but so many Dalhartans wanted to help, Ed now accepts anonymous contributions that cover full half the expense.

"Just the other day a businessman brought in his check for $50," Bishop said. "He laid it on my desk, said it was for the letter to the men overseas, and walked out."

To show what he thought of the morale value of the letter, a lieutenant — colonel in France sent in $15. But Bishop refuses anything but shirt tail contributions from servicemen.

The publisher has a huge drawer full of shirt tails now. And as a sign of future income he likes to point to the letter sent in by Lt.

Fire Destroys Two Rooms of Coney Building

By MARIE MERRBACH

LONA CONING, Nov. 14—Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed two rooms on the second floor of a brick building opposite the San Toy theater, Main street, at 5:15 p. m. yesterday.

The two rooms were used as a restaurant by James Kelly, East Main street, but the restaurant had closed at 5 p. m. and no one was in the building when the fire started.

The first floor of the two-story building, headquarters of James P. Love Post, No. 92, American Legion, and its auxiliary, was damaged by water when firemen extinguished the blaze upstairs.

Kelly, who was at home when the fire started, estimated damage at several hundred dollars. Members of the Goodwill Volunteer Fire Company No. 1 extinguished the blaze half an hour after they were called to the scene.

Paul E. Hardy Killed in B. & O. Yards at Keyser

Wheel Inspector Meets Sudden Death when Caught between Cars

By LUKE McDOWELL

KEYSER, W. Va., Nov. 14—Paul E. Hardy, 43, Baltimore and Ohio railroad wheel inspector, met sudden death at 11:30 a. m. today when he was caught between two cars on the track where loaded cars in need of repairs are placed temporarily before being shifted to the regular load repair track.

Hardy was alone when the accident occurred and was found by Harry Cole, a fellow workman, just as he was gasping his last breath. Cole notified the foreman, who immediately called the county officials.

Accidental Death

The accident was investigated by Lester Reynolds, prosecuting attorney; F. G. Davis, sheriff and L. E. Proudfoot, state trooper. After interviewing Train Master Tice and General Yard Foreman McGuire and others and examining the position of the body in relation to the cars on the track, a verdict of accidental death was given. No inquest was ordered.

Circumstances of the accident were explained by Sheriff Davis as follows:

"In switching loads to be cut out for repair, after passing over the hump they are dropped into the repair pocket track temporarily. Sometimes the car being dropped strikes the car ahead and may rebound slightly, leaving a space between the two cars. It is thought that Hardy attempted to pass between two such cars when another dropped down forcing the cars together just as he attempted to pass between them, thus crushing out his life almost instantly."

A native of Keyser, Hardy spent his entire life here, being graduated from Keyser high school and Potomac State school. He was an active member of the Grace Methodist church, a member of the Masonic fraternity and was devoted to the promotion of Boy Scout work, having been a member of the executive board of Potomac Council and on the committee of Troop No. 39, of the Grace Methodist church, at the time of his death. He attended the executive board meeting on Monday evening at the home of Dr. Frank U. Davis in Cumberland.

Active in Scouting

Interested in Boy Scout work since 1910 when he was a member of Troop No. 1, Hardy served as scoutmaster of Troop No. 27 from 1919 to 1931 and was district commissioner for several years. He attended the national training school for scout executives at Briar Cliff Manor, N. Y., in 1932 and beginning in 1918 for a period of ten years he was scout camp director for New Creek district. From 1932 to 1942 he was director of leadership training in New Creek district and was chairman of the leadership training committee of the council at the time of his death. He was the holder of a silver beaver award for "outstanding service to boyhood within the council territory."

Surviving are his widow, who was Miss Olgie Burgess; his mother, Mrs. Ella Dayton Hardy; two sisters and two brothers, Miss Della Hardy, Mrs. Jessie Bailey and Bryce Hardy, of Keyser, and West Hardy, of Morgantown.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Wounded by Gunshot

Elwood Armantrout, Beryl, who entered Potomac Valley hospital Saturday for treatment of gunshot wound in the right leg, underwent an operation in which the leg was amputated at the knee. The lad was hunting with his father in Cabin Run district. The shotgun the father was using was accidentally discharged, the load striking the boy in the knee. His condition is reported favorable.

Seal Sale Planned

The sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals will get under way the last week of November. H. L. Idleman, president of the county Tuberculosis Association has named officers and the chairman who will assist in making stamp and bond sales this year. They are:

The work connected with the annual Christmas seal sale is entirely voluntary, enabling the use of a larger sum to be used in the fight for the control and prevention of tuberculosis.

Travel Becoming More Difficult

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (P)—The best advice for prospective long-distance travelers out of Baltimore is to get reservations as far in advance as possible, railroad and airline officials agreed today.

Non-priority plane passengers run the risk of being put off at any stop on any route, but airline officials said this was most likely to occur west of Chicago.

Beyond the Windy City, train reservations also become increasingly difficult to obtain on short notice, railway officials said. Plane and trainmen agreed that the reason for the bottleneck was the heightening of the tempo of the Pacific war, and predicted that conditions would become worse.

Hospital Licensing Favored by Council

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (P)—Legislation to compel all institutions caring for bed patients to maintain minimum hospital standards was recommended today by the legislative council.

A bill providing for annual licensing of hospitals by the state department of health will be drafted by Dr. Horace E. Flack, secretary of the council and director of the Bureau of Legislative Reference. This decision followed a hearing given the Maryland-District of Columbia Hospital Association.

The proposal, submitted by P. J. McMillin, president, in behalf of the Council on Governmental Relations for Maryland, outlined the need for licensing of hospitals, declaring that "the institutional care of the sick is a public responsibility, and in the judgment of this association there should be state legislative control to guarantee adequate discharge of that responsibility."

Dogs for Vets

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (P)—War-trained dogs no longer needed by the army would be given to veterans who trained them, or other veterans, under a bill introduced today by Rep. Randolph (D-WVa).

Pimlico Futurity Expected To Draw 12 Top Juveniles

Mail Victory and Recce Will Be among Starters in Big Race

By JOHN F. CHANDLER
BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Pimlico's $300,000-plus pot-o'-gold appeared likely today to draw as many as a dozen two-year-olds going for the line's share of the purse and a top ranking among the juveniles, when they go to the post for the twenty-second renewal of the famous race Saturday.

Although the race is considered a payoff test for the babies of racing and likely to bring forth a possible three-year-old champion, so far winners have found only bad luck in their quest for big prizes the following year. Only Count Fleet has captured old Hill County's $100,000 prize, and only Count Fleet and Count Fleet's son, Count Fleet, have won the triple crown—the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes—in 1943.

Two Futurity winners, Chaldean and Bimelech, came back to Pimlico to take the Preakness but failed in the Derby, and only Morvich, before Count Fleet, managed to make his nose in front over Churchill Downs' course in the Kentucky classic.

Whether it was trying to avoid injury bad luck or not, the two leading 1944 juvenile contenders, W. M. Jeffords' Pavo and John J. Whittier's Recce, will be around Saturday. They've been retrained for the season.

However, the railbirds, looking for a real scramble in a wide-open race, settled today on three thoroughbreds as likely favorites—Pammy Farm's Hal Victory, Pennington's The Doge, and Col. V. Whittier's Recce. All have been recent winners.

Three others highly regarded are Javel Farm's Chronofite, Longchamp Farm's Baron Jack, and Col. R. Bradley's Byemeadow, who have been accounted for triumphs in the past and New York this fall.

Expected to complete the field are entries close Friday are W. L. Linn's Challenging, Brookfield Farm's Brookfield, Calumet Farm's Luck, Brookmeade Stable's Count Power, Christiansa Stables' Count Power, and Howes Stables' Pentagon.

The Futurity inaugural was won in 1921 by B. Block's Morvich. Col. Bradley, who has had three winners in this classic—Blossom Time in 1922, Beau Butler in 1923, and Bimelech in 1939—will be after his triumph with Byemeadow.

Even Horses Named for Pimlico Race

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Eleven names specialists were named tonight for the fifth running of the $100,000-added Exterminator handicap at Pimlico tomorrow, a mile and 70 yard test for three-year-olds and up.

Two of the favorites were Brookmeade Stables' Caribou, top-weighted at 124 pounds, followed by Harlan's Ruth McLaughlin's Cap here, at 122.

Others were A. L. Kuehn's Momo (115), M. A. Gushman's Rouse (115), R. K. Mellon's Longchamp II (114), Boone Hall Stables' Peach, 107; W. P. Weatherall's Calvert, 115; John A. Manthorpe's Astral, 102; B. P. Christmas's Momo, 106; O. S. Jennings's Conrad (106), and Jose Coll Vidal's Rhyme, 102.

Chran Trails Hoppe Only Three Points

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Welker, San Francisco's challenge, in the world's three cushion title, moved within three points of Champion Willie Hoppe when he defeated the New York veteran, 52 to 50 in the afternoon of his challenge match.

It was the eleventh block of the point match and Hoppe now led 50 to 54.

Hoppe had the best high run, an 80 to 54, in the forty-sixth inning and a ninth shot by a whizzer.

It was a high-scoring rally the late innings which won the point for Cochran who trailed by 10 points before he could score.

Annar Barlund Will Defeat Yancey Henry

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Gundar, the flailing Finn, will defeat Yancey Henry, California heavyweight, in a ten-round winner on the Arena Athletic Club Thursday night show.

Gundar, who has been stepping along the comeback trail, is in quest of his eighth victory returning to the ring. He defeated a ten-round decision to Bobo in his last Baltimore appearance in 1941.

Maniaci Stresses Defense

BRIDGE, Md., Nov. 14 (AP)—Kane, Penn's star back of last year, got a new job—pretending he's a "Crazy Legs" Hirsch of the Lejeune Marines to permit training Naval Training Center football team to perfect a defense.

Joe Maniaci adopted the "Crazy Legs" in an effort to give his team a means of handling the former Wisconsin back when he meets Lejeune in North Carolina Sunday.

Maniaci also is concerned with a pass defense against Yonaker, the Notre Dame star who was on the receiving end of a successful pass against Lejeune in the first encounter in the game last Oct. 8.

Freshmen Should Be Banned after War, Brown Says

By JERRY LISK
CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (AP)—Freshmen—although they have proved physically and mentally mature—should be banned from varsity football competition after the war "for the good of the game," Coach Paul Brown of Great Lakes declared here.

Brown, former coach at Ohio State University now on navy leave, asserted before the Chicago Quarterback Club that he believed freshmen were physically capable of varsity play, but that the practice eventually would result in many wandering athletes, who would prove their football ability ahead of their classroom talents.

"Speaking personally," he said, "if I had a 17-year-old son who could make the varsity team at Ohio State, then he'd play."

His discussion followed a question from the audience asking his views on freshman competition in light of the football death of freshman quarterback Allan Shafer of Wisconsin; injuries sustained by Buddy Young and Earl (Gus) Girard, first-year stars at Illinois and Wisconsin, respectively; and Army's rout of freshman-studded Notre Dame.

"I think that for the good of the game, the Big Ten should and probably will restore its freshman ban after the war," Brown said.

Otherwise, we'd have a situation wherein freshmen players would be flunked out of one school after rendering their football services and then try the same thing at another school."

Asked whether Illinois or Michigan was best equipped to upset undefeated Ohio State, Brown said that Illinois "can lick any team in the country on the right day," but that "when the chips are down" Michigan probably will cause its traditional foe the most trouble.

Airplane Transportation Offered Swedish Stars

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 14 (AP)—Airplane transportation to the United States has been offered Swedish track stars Gunder Haegg, Arne Andersson and Haakon Lidman, according to the Swedish Athletic Association which announced it would reply to the American offer on Nov. 22.

"Acceptance is up to the boys," said Secretary Bo Ekelund although Haegg and Andersson have been represented by Athletic authorities as extremely reluctant to make the journey, principally because of their dislike for indoor racing.

The SPORTLIGHT By GRANTLAND RICE

The Daring Who Dared in Vain

The greatest story of fantastic imagination and even more fantastic optimism reaches its final chapter and its closing lines in the last race at Belmont Park this afternoon. This is the story of the many thousands who have had the opium dream that they could beat from 11 to 12 per cent.

Since the New York meeting last April a multitude of track fans have wagered something like $400,000,000 through the mutual windows. They have left something like $43,000,000 behind, but not once have they ever become discouraged or dismayed.

After the manner of the famous Light Brigade—there was no man dismayed, there was no man afraid, though someone had blundered. Long shots to the left of them, long shots to the right of them, volleyed and thundered.

But this happened to be only a faint statement of the case. The amount bet around New York was not a mere $400,000,000 but over a billion dollars. I had been told by a well known turfman around New York that at least $400,000,000 extra was bet with bookmakers.

I called up Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the New York Racing Commission, to verify this statement.

There is no possible way," Chairman Swope said, "to verify any estimate. But in my opinion at least three times as much money is bet away from the track as you will find sent through mutual windows."

Of course a certain amount of this outside money is sent back to the track. But my guess would be that at least a billion dollars was wagered this season away from the tracks.

"This includes, first of all, the big bettors who have from $5,000 to $10,000 they want placed on certain races. It also includes thousands upon thousands who never get to the track—bookmakers, lawyers, bankers, hair dressers, theatrical people, doctors, doormen, elevator operators, a heavy cross cut of all our people. They may only wager two dollars or five dollars. But they run into numbers far beyond any outside estimate."

"It is for this reason that I have suggested that we have bonded, lectured, and responsible bookmakers at the track to work in conjunction with the mutual machines as they have in England, Australia, South Africa and most of the tracks around the world."

"I am not an advocate of betting on a race horse. This belongs to the race horse's desire. But I know there is no way to stop race-horse betting. There are too many who want to bet. They know what the odds are against them and they know the percentage they must face."

The Amount That Is Bet

It was Chairman Swope's guess or estimate that slightly over a billion dollars would be sent in through mutual machines this year.

This means that in reality over $8,000,000,000 would be the wagering total.

I agree with Mr. Swope that bookmakers should be added to the various tracks, for two reasons.

1. They mean a large added revenue for the various states.

2. They mean an added convenience to the public that often can't get to mutual windows where the long and impatient lines go far back before race time.

It is my opinion that many millions of dollars that might have been wasted have been shut off by the limited number of mutual windows as the horses go to the post.

It may be your opinion that betting or gambling is a very wicked thing and should be stopped or discouraged. I can't disagree with that opinion. But you might as well try to discourage or stop breathing and eating. Life, itself, is a gamble from cradle to grave. Gambling is not a noble quality. It is merely a human quality, that no one can stop.

72 Thoroughbreds Sold at Keenland

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 14 (AP)—Seventy-two head of thoroughbred mares and weanlings were sold at the Keeneland race course Monday for approximately $184,600 in the opening session of the Breeders' Sales Company's annual fall sales.

The bids ranged upward to $22,500 paid by Miss Mildred Woolwine, Nashville, Tenn., for War Flower, six-year-old chestnut mare by Man O'War and a recent medical discharge from the army, may go as a player-tourist.

Ralph W. Olson of Honolulu, has reached New York on his survey of the trio of pro football hopes expected to spring up after peace comes.

"Honolulu is 'ripe' for pro football," he said today. "We have a stadium that seats 25,000 and we fill it weekly for high school games. It would have been enlarged to 40,000 if we could get the building material."

Tex Oliver, former Oregon coach now a lieutenant commander in the navy, is Olson's choice as coach of the island eleven. Oliver is stationed at Pearl Harbor.

Caribbean Area Listed as Place Kinnick Lost Life

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Nile Kinnick, one of Iowa's greatest football stars, lost his life in the Caribbean area, June 2, 1943, when his plane was forced down at sea.

Almost eighteen months after Kinnick's death, the Navy department today disclosed the area in which the All-American halfback went down. Previous reports did not mention where he died.

Kinnick's plane made a forced landing. A crash boat arrived at the scene within a few minutes. Although Kinnick had been seen to fall free of the plane, he could not be found.

The area where Kinnick died came to light following an announcement that his brother, Benjamin Greave Kinnick, a marine flyer, is listed as missing in action since last Sept. 17, after a flight over Kavieng peninsula.

Nile, mainstay of the University of Iowa's 1939 "Iroquois," won almost every major honor available to a college football player.

He was All-American, received the John W. Heisman Memorial Trophy, won the Associated Press poll as the "Athlete of the Year," was voted the most valuable player in the Big Ten Conference, and took other awards.

Lieut. Benjamin Kinnick was the second of three Kinnick brothers. The youngest, George, 18, is a naval student at Colorado college.

Grid Delegation Plans Visit to War Theaters

Coaches, Players, Newspapermen To Make Tour after Season Ends

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Football plans to send a delegation of coaches, players and newspapermen to the various war theaters following the grid campaign as baseball is doing at the present time.

The plan originally was conceived by Lt. Col. Henry W. (Esqy) Clark of the army special service forces. Before the war, Clark was director of athletics at Lafayette and during his under-graduate days was a football player at Harvard.

Clark, in describing the idea, said "that I believe a GI would get a tremendous thrill out of talking to, say Fritz Crisler of Michigan, or Lou Little of Columbia."

"And a wounded serviceman certainly would receive inspiration from seeing some football great and discovering that the player had a physical defect but became a star nevertheless."

If weather and war conditions permit, it is possible that the traveling coaches may be assigned to various teams in a certain theater for a championship game.

Crisler and Steve Owens of the New York pro Giants, have been mentioned as possible members of the coaching division, while Ward Cuff, a member of the Giant backfield and a recent medical discharge from the army, may go as a player-tourist.

Ralph W. Olson of Honolulu, has reached New York on his survey of the trio of pro football hopes expected to spring up after peace comes.

"Honolulu is 'ripe' for pro football," he said today. "We have a stadium that seats 25,000 and we fill it weekly for high school games. It would have been enlarged to 40,000 if we could get the building material."

Painting of Dempsey, Willard Fight Is Unveiled in New York

By FRITZ HOWELL
NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Comdr. Jack Dempsey and artist James Montgomery Flagg, both of whom have spread plenty of figures on canvases, shared the spotlight today as the Manassa Mauler relived for a few minutes the high spot of his fighting career.

The occasion was the unveiling, at Dempsey's restaurant, of a 20-by-six-foot oil painting by Flagg of the scrap between Dempsey and Jess Willard at Toledo, O., July 4, 1919, in which Dempsey won the heavy-weight title and headed the fight game toward the million dollar gates.

Barbara Fritchie Properly Sold

By JOHN F. CHANDLER

FREDERICK, Md., Nov. 14 (AP)—The mortgagee have closed in on the Barbara Fritchie home and museum—just like Stonewall Jackson did (or didn't) eighty-two years ago—but the Star Spangled Banner still waved proudly from the second story window after the last bang of the auctioneer's hammer and the smoke from the purchaser's cigar cleared away.

Appropriately, Ulysses Grant Hooper, Frederick county commissioner and auctioneer, accepted the high bid of $5,000 for the historic property which will continue to attract tourists interested in Dame Fritchie and her stirring, if controversial career.

Banker Buys Home

The successful bid was made by Benjamin L. Shuff, vice president of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank, who explained between cigar puffs that local interests planned "to continue the home as a shrine known as the Barbara Fritchie Home, Inc."

Only twenty-five people gathered about the Frederick county court house steps—two and a half blocks from the home—to witness the seventeen-minute transaction which foreclosed on an $11,000 mortgage, on which there had been no interest payment since 1942.

Two wars brought fame, little fortune and a mortgage to Patrick street's most famed red brick structure. The Civil war provided background for the disputed incident related in John Greenleaf Whittier's poem, and World War II with its gasoline rationing ruined a business that attracted around 15,000 persons annually to the place at thirty-five cents each, plus four cents federal tax.

Poo-Poo Pep Story

The local Daughters of the Confederacy poo-poo claim that when "up the street" came the rebel tread, Stonewall Jackson riding ahead, Widow Fritchie with all the pep of her ninety-six years, and supposedly bedridden, hoisted the union emblem out the window almost into the southern general's beard, and, "shoot if you must, this old gray head, but spare your country's flag," she said.

On the other hand, Mrs. Hammond Clary, whose husband with L. E. Mullinix restored the home in 1927, told how Winston Churchill visited the shrine a year ago.

Regular Service For Cumberland Offered by TWA

Traffic Representative Explains Plans if Franchise Is Approved

Cumberland will be served with a regularly scheduled airline between Washington, D. C., and Dayton, O., if the pending application for a franchise by the Transcontinental Western Airlines is approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board, John Roger Boor, its traffic representative, explained here yesterday.

Addressing Rotarians at their weekly luncheon at the Central Y. M. C. A. as guest speaker, Boor explained that the route would have Baltimore as a co-terminal and would include Hagerstown, Wheeling, W. Va., and Columbus, O. It will be a limited service, as distinguished from the non-stop and local feeder services.

A tremendous development of domestic air service is to be expected when the war ends, Boor said, basing his opinion on the great advance made prior to the war and the remarkable development of aviation occasioned by the war.

The domestic industry now serves seventy-six per cent of the population of the United States, the speaker said, and soon after the war ends ninety-six per cent will have access to the service.

The decade ending with 1941 saw air passenger traffic jump from 470,000 to upward of 4,000,000 with a flying total of 1,400,000 passenger miles, Boor said, and this will jump five times right after the war.

There will be a vast development of global service also, the speaker said. Efforts are now under way to develop a world program. It was explained, with some fundamentals already agreed upon. Boor's statement along with fifteen other American airlines is advocating a five-point policy including free and open world-wide competition, private ownership and management, government assistance, freedom of transit in peaceful flight and acquisition of civil and commercial outlets required in the public interest.

Steelmen's Work Is Praised Here

Retiring Conciliator's Part in Two Celanese Disputes Recalled

Resignation of John R. Steelman as director of conciliation in the United States Department of Labor, effective November 25, means the loss of an able and experienced man in the settlement of labor disputes, is the opinion expressed by James A. Dundon, of this city, national representative of the Textile Union Workers of America.

Steelman, incidentally, enters the local picture because he played a prominent part in the settlement of labor disputes at the Amelle plant of the Celanese Corporation, of America in 1937 and 1939. He also was active in settlement of the coal miners' strike of 1942 which included the George's Creek section.

"Steelman is one of the most capable men in this line of work in this country," Dundon declared.

Fred T. Small, manager of the Celanese plant, recalled that Steelman was the "man behind the scenes" in the settlement of disputes here and said he handled the cases "very ably."

Steelman, now in charge of 264 commissioners of conciliation in twenty-five field offices in industrial centers throughout the country, has specialized in "preventive work" in handling labor disturbances. When he became director of conciliation in 1937 the years' record showed that his organization settled 1,267 cases involving 130,000 workers.

Of these cases, fifty-seven per cent involved work stoppages, but in 1940 this percentage had been cut to twenty-two. Now it is down to eleven per cent, with some of the credit due to the no-strike pledge plus the disinclination of many workers, for patriotic reasons, to interrupt war production.

The conciliator, service, which Steelman heads, has been able to better its record, for one reason, through selling employers and unions the idea of calling it into dispute before they developed into work stoppages. Congress liked this method so well that in two recent years it voted more money for the service than had been asked for it.

A native of Thornton, Ark., Steelman has taught at Vanderbilt and Harvard universities and Alabama college.

Wild Turkey Season Closing Is Requested; Meeting Is Called

Due to numerous requests to close the season on wild turkeys, the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission will hold a meeting in the engine house in Hancock, Md., Monday, November 20 at 8 p. m., at which time all persons for and against will be heard.

Notice to this effect was given last evening by E. Lee LeCompte, state game warden.

Sportsmen's organizations in this section urged the closing of the turkey season several months ago, contending that surveys made in Allegheny county showed if such action were not taken immediately wild turkeys would be exterminated.

National Firms Contribute $565 To Fund Drive

Ten of sixty-one national firms in Cumberland have reported contributions to date of $565 to the National War Fund in Allegheny county and the Cumberland Community Chest campaign, Joseph V. Tunk, national firms committee chairman, announced yesterday.

Tuk said members of the committee sent letters to the national firms operating in Cumberland and that subscriptions have just begun to come in. He added that in many cases it is necessary for the local manager to refer matters of subscriptions for campaigns to the head office which, of course, delays reports.

The contributions of $565 from the ten firms reporting, Tuk said, represent an increase of $80 more than was given by the same firms last year or a gain of fourteen per cent.

Contributions reported include: Cut-rate shoe store, $150; Schmidt Baking Company, $125; Harris-Boyer Company, $100; Family Finance Corporation, $25; Imperial Ice Cream Company, $35; Singer Sewing Machine Company, $50; Keystone shoe store, $20; Red Head Oil Company, $20; Ormond hosiery shop, $25; Rand's drug store, $25.

An important meeting of classified and union industrial section leaders was held last night in Central YMCA in order to "rally" contributions, thus preventing overgiving but at the same time assuring adequate giving. The meeting was attended by about sixty representatives of business, professional and other groups.

ODT Urges Early Mailing Of Christmas Packages

Because transportation facilities are heavily overburdened and there is a shortage of trained postal workers, gift packages should be mailed by December 1 in order to insure their delivery in time for Christmas, Office of Defense Transportation officials said yesterday.

Gift mailing this year is expected to be twenty-five per cent greater than last year, officials said. They added that packages will travel greater distances because of wartime population displacement.

Local News in Brief

The public is invited to attend a grocer-consumer meeting at 8 p. m. today in the West Side school. Several OPA officials, including Leo H. McCormick, state OPA director, will be guest speakers at the meeting, which has been planned to promote increased co-operation between consumers and dealers in connection with the price control and rationing program.

Victor D. Heisey, principal of Port Hill high school will discuss "Post-war Education" at the meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club, tomorrow at 12:15 p. m. in Central YMCA.

South End firemen answered a false alarm at the home of Joseph Lee, 131 Springdale street, yesterday at 2:30 p. m.

Legion Launches Drive for Gifts For Wounded Vets

Citizens, Merchants Asked To Co-operate; Loughrie Heads Committee

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, and its auxiliary last evening announced its participation in the war's largest Christmas party for hospitalized servicemen and women and appointed a committee comprising Howard P. Loughrie, chairman, A. J. Burke and Clarence Eyre to handle all arrangements.

The local post and auxiliary will be among the 12,065 posts of the Legion and 9,499 auxiliary units, with a combined membership of 2,100,000, co-operating with Eddie Cantor's new radio show "Time to Smile" to collect 500,000 Christmas gift boxes for delivery to wounded and sick fighting men and women in a government hospital in the United States on December 25.

The project has received the stamp of approval from the Legion's national executive committee. Cantor will plug the Legion Christmas activity, and Legion posts and their auxiliary units will act as distributors for all gift boxes.

All citizens will be urged to join in making it a Merry Christmas for the hospitalized service folk under the slogan "Christmas Gifts to Yanks Who Gave."

Stores To Co-operate
Stores in all communities will co-operate through arrangements with the local Legion post and auxiliary and will be asked to play up purchases by shoppers of standardized gift boxes which the stores will turn over to the local Legion home, or buyers can take their gifts themselves to the Legion post or unit.

Gifts purchased here will be distributed by Fort Cumberland Post and auxiliary as close to home as possible, with any surplus directed to the next closest hospital, so that no service man or woman in a hospital on Christmas day will be without a Yule box.

The local committee has designated the Newton D. Baker General Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., for the assignment of gift boxes for Christmas turned over to the Legion in Cumberland and vicinity.

State Chairman Named
George Eckhardt, Jr., has been appointed department chairman of the drive by John W. Jennings, Maryland department commander of the American Legion. Each department vice-commander and all post commanders are on his committee. Mrs. Henry Miller has been named department chairman of the American Legion auxiliary by Mrs. Elsie Horn, department president.

Distribution of gift boxes to hospitals will be on the basis of bed capacities.

Bagging of Small Game To Start This Morning

Season Is Limited to 34 Days; Male Deer May Be Killed Dec. 4 to 9

Today's the day which an army of Maryland's nimrod has been looking forward to—the opening of the annual small game season.

Small game including wild turkeys, ruffed grouse, quail, rabbit or hare and woodcock are legal game in Allegheny and Garrett counties during the sixteen-day period, November 15 through December 2 and the eighteen days, December 1 to December 30.

The law specifically states that "it is unlawful to hunt any upland game in any manner in Garrett or Allegheny counties during the open season for the hunting of deer, namely, December 4 to 9, inclusive."

Hours Are 7:45 to 5:44
Baited Mison, district game warden, yesterday announced that the legal hunting hours to be observed are 7:45 a. m. to 5:44 p. m., Eastern War Time.

All hunting areas are open in Allegheny county with the exception of the Green Ridge section in which the German prisoners of war camp is situated at the former CCO camp at Plintstone. Approximately 10,000 acres of land will be posted in that section to warn hunters.

The season is closed on wild turkeys and doves in Garrett county. The dove season closed in Allegheny county on October 15.

Due to the fact that federal regulations supersede state laws, the woodcock season which opens in Maryland today closes on November 29. The squirrel season in Washington county closed October 15.

During the deer season next month, male deer, with two or more points to one antler may be bagged. Even if you stumble, get out of all places in Maryland except on the Woodmont Road and Gun Club property, near Hancock, where the open season will be December 15 to 24, inclusive.

Bag Limits Designated
Bag limits for small game during the 1944 season are:

Squirrel — Six per day.
Pheasants and ruffed grouse — Two per day, not over six per season.

Duck turkey — One, not over four per season.
Quail — Eight per day.
Rabbit or hare — Six per day.
Woodcock — Four per day.
Deer (male only) — Not over one per season.

On the eve of the opening of the season ammunition is still reported to be scarce yet the sale of hunting licenses is reported to be good, an indication there are plenty of hunters with sufficient ammunition in their possession.

Safety Precautions Urged
Hunters are urged to obey the ten commandments of safety when they go to the woods seeking game. They are asked not to mix gunpowder with alcohol; don't climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun; never shoot at a hard surface or the surface of water; never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; be sure of your target — look twice before you pull the trigger; never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first; always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble; treat every gun with the respect due an agency capable of dealing out sudden death; carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into automobile, camp or home and always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of any obstruction.

Game laws are posted out in each of the commandments is heeded, few hunters would meet with any of the accidents so frequently encountered.
